

CENTURY BOATS

SINCE 1926

THE HERITAGE OF A CENTURY

The world may see great changes in the span of a century. But passions tend to remain the same. And as long as there is water — the spirit and romance of fishing will not cease. And neither will Century. Because after 71 years of boatbuilding, Century knows what it takes to bring nature and the sportsman together in perfect harmony.

Quality speaks for itself. That's why Century has been around so long. While some boat builders come and go, Century keeps going. Why? Because we never stop building boats that exceed customer expectations. And we never will. •

This year, we at Century salute our customers with a line of 14 fishboats and the classic Coronado. New to the lineup is our 30 foot Walkaround with a unique lounge area, a galley, an enclosed head with a shower and other user-friendly standard features. For the fly-fisherman ready to tackle the flats, we offer the Tunnel Hull 2280 from our Inshore Series that will get you to the action in the shallowest of waters. The serious fisherman's fish boat, the Center Consoles, now come in six models and join the versatile Dual Console and Walkarounds to complete our 1997 offerings. And since there may be more to life than fish boats, we continue to offer the smart and classy Coronado, the boat that helped build our reputation within the industry.

TECHNOLOGY. CRAFTSMANSHIP. INNOVATION.

From CAD/CAM design to hand-sewn upholstery, the skills of different centuries are brought together to create each new Century. And unlike most boats, Century uses an innovative Fibertech stringer system, made entirely of fiberglass, so it won't rot like other wood stringer systems.

The system is bonded by hand and foam filled for strength, flotation and quiet.

And as a Yamaha boat company, Century delivers quality and customer satisfaction as a matter of due course. Century boat owners can have it all. With differences they can appreciate, feel and savor. • So whether you're a seeker of the mighty Marlin or lightning-quick bone fish, remember—all boats are not created equal.

Stay with the one that stands the test of time.

Century. Since 1926.
